

Anthem for Clean Air

Description

O-oh, say can you see, through the smog and the blight, the rampant release of industrial waste streaming?
Through our polluted air, strong enough to ignite, oxygen-starved,
we cough and choke while we're dreaming of the days of clean air, before we were aware of foul poisons produced by big industry's affairs.
Oh, say, will the-ee EPA continue to ignore and wa-aive Blame on those who are at fault who'll send us all to our graves?
