

Capitalism

Description

(Sung for Michael Moore's Capitalism, A Love Affair)

Oh dear! What can the matter be?

We're still suffering a rotten economy.

Jobs have dried up and so has the money.

Our future has bitten the dust.

Wealth trickles down, the economists told us.

Wow! What a lot of boloni they sold us!

Even a child would know it was bogus.

Be careful where you put your trust.

Just to bail out the guys who began it
we've had to pull back from saving the planet.

Funding for arts we've had to can it

we're told we have to adjust.

It's not just because we backed the wrong horses:

we gave up our way of life and our resources

to greedy old men who revered market forces

capitalism's a bust.
