

Drones In the Sky

Description

O, give us a home, where no predators roam, where no pilot-less, lethal planes fly where people are safe in their own living space and death doesn't rain from the sky!

Drones, drones in the sky
With the purpose of killing they fly
And when their bombs hit off the target a bit, many innocent people do die

Now killing's a breeze when you're safe overseas and your victims are dots on a screen With your mouse you take aim like a video game and you can't hear their terror-filled screams

Drones, drones in the sky
With the purpose of killing they fly
And when their bombs hit off the target a bit,
many innocent people do die
