

Walking In A Voter Wonderland

Description

Phone bells ring, are you listening? Do you hear voters bristling?
It's all the same game, in Diebold's name,
Welcome to the voters' wonderland.

Early on, they've conspired, to fix, who will be fired
And just who will win – they've programmed it in,
Wake up to a voter's wonderland.

In the polling station there are boxes
For your ballot – you have marked it well
Carefully slipped it in the counting gismo
But what is counted you can never tell.

So tell the House – quit the stalling
No paper trail is appalling
Incumbents want to win, but that is a sin
Make an honest Voter Wonderland.
